INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANTS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of CNH Capital Canada Ltd., on behalf of CNH Capital Canada Receivables Trust:

We have examined CNH Capital Canada Ltd.'s, formerly Case Credit Ltd., (the "Company's") compliance with its established minimum servicing standards described in the accompanying Management's Assertion, dated April 25, 2009, as of and for the year ended December 31, 2008. Management is responsible for compliance with those minimum servicing standards. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's compliance based on our examination.

Our examination was conducted in accordance with attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and accordingly, included examining, on a test basis, evidence about the Company's compliance with its minimum servicing standards and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our examination provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our examination does not provide a legal determination on the Company's compliance with its minimum servicing standards.

Our examination disclosed the following material noncompliance with I(1) and II(1) of the aforementioned minimum servicing standards applicable to the Company during the year ended December 31, 2008. For servicing standard I(1), certain custodial bank account and related bank clearing account reconciliations contained reconciling items that had not been resolved within ninety calendar days of their original identification. For servicing standard II(1), certain payments on retail installment contracts were not being deposited into the custodial bank accounts and related bank clearing accounts within two business days of receipt.

In our opinion, except for the material noncompliance described in the preceding paragraph, the Company complied, in all material respects, with the aforementioned minimum servicing standards as of and for the year ended December 31, 2008, as set forth in Appendix I.
